

BUCKNELL FACTS

2018-19

About Bucknell Established in 1846 as the University at Lewisburg; renamed Bucknell University in 1886 in honor of William Bucknell, a major benefactor. The University is highly selective, private, nonsectarian, coeducational (since 1883), residential and undergraduate, with a small graduate program.

Campus 450 acres with more than 100 facilities, including a university center, poetry center, teaching and learning center, environmental center, chapel, stadium, writing center, observatory, theatres, performing arts center, multicultural center, student health center, recital hall, Olympic-size pool, fitness center, sports pavilion, 18-hole golf course and instructional golf facility.

Bertrand Library A strong mix of print and electronic resources — approximately 775,000 physical volumes and 659,000 electronic volumes. Access to approximately 47,000 unique periodical titles in more than 200 databases, including access to hundreds of thousands of full-text articles. Services include online information access, individual research assistance, classroom user education, more than 128 computer workstations, video-editing lab and equipment, video collection, equipment for checkout and the Bertrand Café. Seating for nearly 1,000 as well as 10 group-study rooms. More information: bucknell.edu/library.

Technology Resources Network access is readily available through Bucknell's high-speed wireless network, which covers more than 98 percent of the campus indoors, plus many outdoor spaces. All student rooms have access to the campus network, both via Wi-Fi and through wired network jacks. Bucknell uses Moodle as its learning-management system for faculty and students. Digital television (BUTV), with a mixture of both standard- and high-definition programming, is available to students in campus lounges, hearth spaces and other public areas. The University provides local, long distance and international telephone services to students. More information: bucknell.edu/LIT.

Most students come to campus with a computer. Both Windows and Macintosh are prevalent choices. Classrooms and labs are equipped with technologies to enhance the learning environment. Many classrooms across campus offer a computer for each student in the class. Students, faculty and staff have access to more than 100 computer-based training programs and many other resources. The University has a mix of approximately 1,000 Windows, Macintosh and Linux workstations located across campus in various learning spaces. The College of Engineering maintains a high-performance computing cluster in support of faculty and student research. More information can be found online at bucknell.edu/LIT.

Financial Facts As of June 30, 2018, the total market value of the endowment was approximately $851 million; total operating expenses were $241 million.

Giving at Bucknell For fiscal year 2017-18, private gifts and pledges totaled $48.9 million and receipts (gifts and pledge payments) totaled $38.4 million. A total of $13 million was given to the Annual Fund for current operations. The alumni participation rate was 26 percent, and the rate of current parent participation was 34 percent. Although Bucknell's annual budget is funded mainly by tuition, approximately 23 percent of the University's operations are supported by private gifts and spendable endowment income.
