NEW XL GAS-OPERATED AUTOMATIC SERIES

New and nifty! The Ithaca-SKB XL Series is for the man who likes fast action in the game he hunts and the gun he shoots. These gas-operated semiautomatic shotguns are incredibly fast and extremely light. You get the handling characteristics of a lightweight double gun and the fast-firing capability of a recoil semi-automatic with less recoil than either.

New and thrifty! You'll find features on these handsome guns usually found only on guns costing a great deal more. And you get the same handcrafted quality for which Ithaca is famous.

The XL Series receiver is machined from a solid block of aircraft-type aluminum alloy with the strength and durability of the new high-performance automobile engine blocks. Deep anodized finish is weather-resistant and permanent. The bolt is solid steel, chrome plated to resist rust and pitting. An integral lock on the bolt fits into the barrel extension, giving you steel-to-steel lockup for added safety.

The self-compensating gas system handles mixed loads without adjustment. And it gives you smooth, trouble-free performance for a lifetime of shooting enjoyment.
